It's Election Day!

Use the shape tool (square) to fill in a square on the graph paper.

I already voted!

A collection of various colored squares and shapes on a blue grid background. Some shapes are filled with colors like red, blue, green, yellow, and black. There are also some empty square outlines. A mouse cursor is visible near the top right. The word "Yes" is written in black cursive on the right side.

I haven't voted yet...

Best Practices

- Close all applications that are not needed during your session. Minimize applications not being used.
- Share selected application rather than Share Desktop.
- Select Full Screen mode for the application you want to share.
- Do not show videos or animations with application share.
- Scroll slowly to allow time for graphics to refresh for viewers.

Creating Breakout Rooms

Creating Breakout Rooms

The image illustrates the steps to create breakout rooms in Blackboard Collaborate. It features three main components:

- Top Screenshot: Shows the 'PARTICIPANTS' list with 'Lindy Knoblauch' (Moderator) and 'Cindy Knoblauch' (Moderator (You)). A red box highlights the moderator's name. A red arrow points to the 'Global Permissions' menu, where 'Create Breakout Rooms...' is selected.
- Dialog Box: A 'Create Breakout Rooms' dialog box is shown with the following fields and options:
 - Name of rooms: Room
 - Number of rooms: 4
 - Distribute Options:
 - Don't move participants
 - Distribute participants evenly
 - Divide into groups of [dropdown]
 - Include moderators in distribution
 - Buttons: Create, Cancel
- Bottom Screenshot: Shows the 'PARTICIPANTS' list with 'Cindy Knoblauch' (Moderator (You)) and a list of rooms: Room 1, Room 2, Room 2, and Room 4. A red box highlights the 'Room 1' entry. A red arrow points to the context menu for 'Room 1', which includes options like 'Return to Main Room', 'Copy Whiteboard to Main Room', 'Enter Breakout Room', 'Rename Breakout Room...', and 'Close Breakout Room'.

Breakout Rooms & Moderators

Breakout Rooms & Moderators

- Mobile participants can collaborate in Breakout Rooms, however, they cannot move themselves from room to room. Only the Moderator can move the Mobile participants.
- Mobile participants cannot navigate the Whiteboard pages in a Breakout Room, therefore, it is recommended that at least one desktop/laptop participant be given the role of Moderator and the Whiteboard set to "Follow."
- The Mobile participants can communicate using Audio, Chat, Emoticons, Hand Raise and Polling.
- Moderators or session facilitators must join the session from a desktop or laptop computer. Moderator tools are not available from a mobile device.

Suggestion from a VLL teacher who does all-day
Elluminate sessions:

Sign in as moderator on your computer, then on your mobile device as a participant. If you want to step away from the office and make sure you do not miss anyone, you can take your mobile device with you and see when someone new enters.
